

The INOU welcomes Minister Phil Hogan's request that local Returning Officers make a special effort to employ unemployed people in polling and count centres on the day of the EU Fiscal Treaty Referendum.

'The INOU has repeatedly called for unemployed people to be given every opportunity to staff polling stations and count centres and we welcome the Minister's call for this to happen' said John Stewart, INOU Co-ordinator

For information on how to apply for both the polling day and counting day jobs please contact your local returning officers, a full list of returning officers along with contact details is available by clicking here. The INOU would also welcome any feedback on people's experiences of applying for these positions.
