

We are delighted to advise that the SkillsMatch Website is now live and you can access it by clicking on the link below.

<https://beta.skillsmatch.eu/>

The website includes information on soft skills. You can assess your soft skills by completing short multiple choice questionnaires. The website includes a wide range of soft skill headings such as communication, conflict resolution, accountability, resilience and motivation.

The website includes a range of free training courses to help you further develop these soft skills. The website also advises of the soft skills that are most useful for different job types and occupations. It is likely that soft skills will become increasingly important as employers look beyond knowledge and place a greater importance on these skills.

The INOU are very glad to be involved in the European SkillsMatch project. We were delighted to team up with one of the main partners Trinity College who were one of 7 project partners which also included Swedish and Spanish partners.

The Platform would not be the same without the involvement and support of our Individual Members. We would also like to extend our sincere gratitude to the Arklow Job Club, Employment Development and Information Centre in Longford and the South West Inner City Local Employment Centre for their invaluable assistance in this work.